

Advanced Project Management in Life Sciences

- One-day training on Medicin Village

24 April, 2025

A collaboration between MVIC and Katarina Lundh

Master Complexity. Lead with Confidence.

Life science projects are high risk —regulatory hurdles, scientific uncertainty, and shifting priorities. Are you equipped to handle them?

In this intensive one-day training, you'll get practical tools to manage risks, streamline execution, and lead high-performing teams. Learn how to leverage AI, tackle regulatory challenges, and drive projects forward with confidence.

Led by Katarina Lundh, a seasoned R&D leader with 30+ years in pharma and medtech, this training is designed for experienced professionals ready to take project leadership to the next level.

One day. Real impact. Are you in?

Including

- Mastering Complexity & Strategic Execution
- Advanced project planning and execution
- AI & Digital Tools in Life Science Project Management
